UK Outlook for Tuesday 20 Jul 2021 to Thursday 29 Jul 2021:
This period will continue to be influenced by an area of high pressure slowly moving across the UK. The odd shower remains possible across the south on Tuesday, but it will be largely dry with plenty of sunshine here and for western areas, with cloudier conditions and light rain further north and east. Following this, it's likely that we'll see a good deal of widespread dry weather with plenty of sunshine, but with an increasing risk of heavy showers and thunderstorms developing from the south and west as the period goes on. Temperatures continue to be very warm at first, perhaps locally hot in central and southern areas, before probably becoming somewhat cooler and fresher from the southwest later next week, heralding a change to a more unsettled spell.
